Why study EUS?

Politics, Law and Economics are highly influenced by European decisions. Knowledge of European institutions, policies, decision making procedures and law is therefore extremely relevant for everybody working in the public and private sectors. The unique Master Programme in European Union Studies imparts students with a profound theoretical and practical knowledge in these areas, by connecting political science, law, economics, history, communication studies and languages. The programme also provides opportunities for studying abroad, enhancing the international qualification and the language competences of its students.

Additionally the whole study programme is taught in English, intensifying the international focus.

The Master Programme takes account of political and socio-economic processes and includes European practitioners and experts from the European institutions in its teaching programme. By simulating decision making procedures and moot courts students practice preparing bargaining positions and negotiating these position in the framework of the European Parliament, the Council of the European Union, the Commission, and the European Court of Justice.

The Master Programme provides students with:

- a qualification as experts in European law, politics and economics
- a profound knowledge of political processes and decision making mechanisms within the European Union
- practical knowledge of the political processes on an EU-level via moot courts and simulations
- a first intensive experience of European institutions during the study visit to Brussels and other cities
- the chance to acquire additional skills during a semester abroad
- the opportunity to develop their cultural and language skills within an international educational environment

Admission

To register for the Master Programme in European Union Studies, students have to hold a Bachelor's (or higher) degree. In general, all university study programmes qualify students for the Master Programme (except the fine and performing arts). Students holding a degree from universities of applied sciences qualify for the Master Programme in European Union Studies if they have studied legal, social science or economic subjects.

The study programme is in English. All students have to be proficient users of this language. Students do not have to prove their competence during the admission procedure but will not be able to follow and pass courses without it.

English-skills can (and should) be improved in language courses offered at the University.

Additionally you need to be willing to make some effort in studying. Teachers and students find the Master Programme challenging: many students have to familiarize themselves with new issues, disciplines and methods in a short amount of time. Experience shows that most beginners successfully master these challenges. But, from the first semester, this demands a willingness to acquire missing knowledge in the main topics through self-study, supported by tutorials and learning groups.

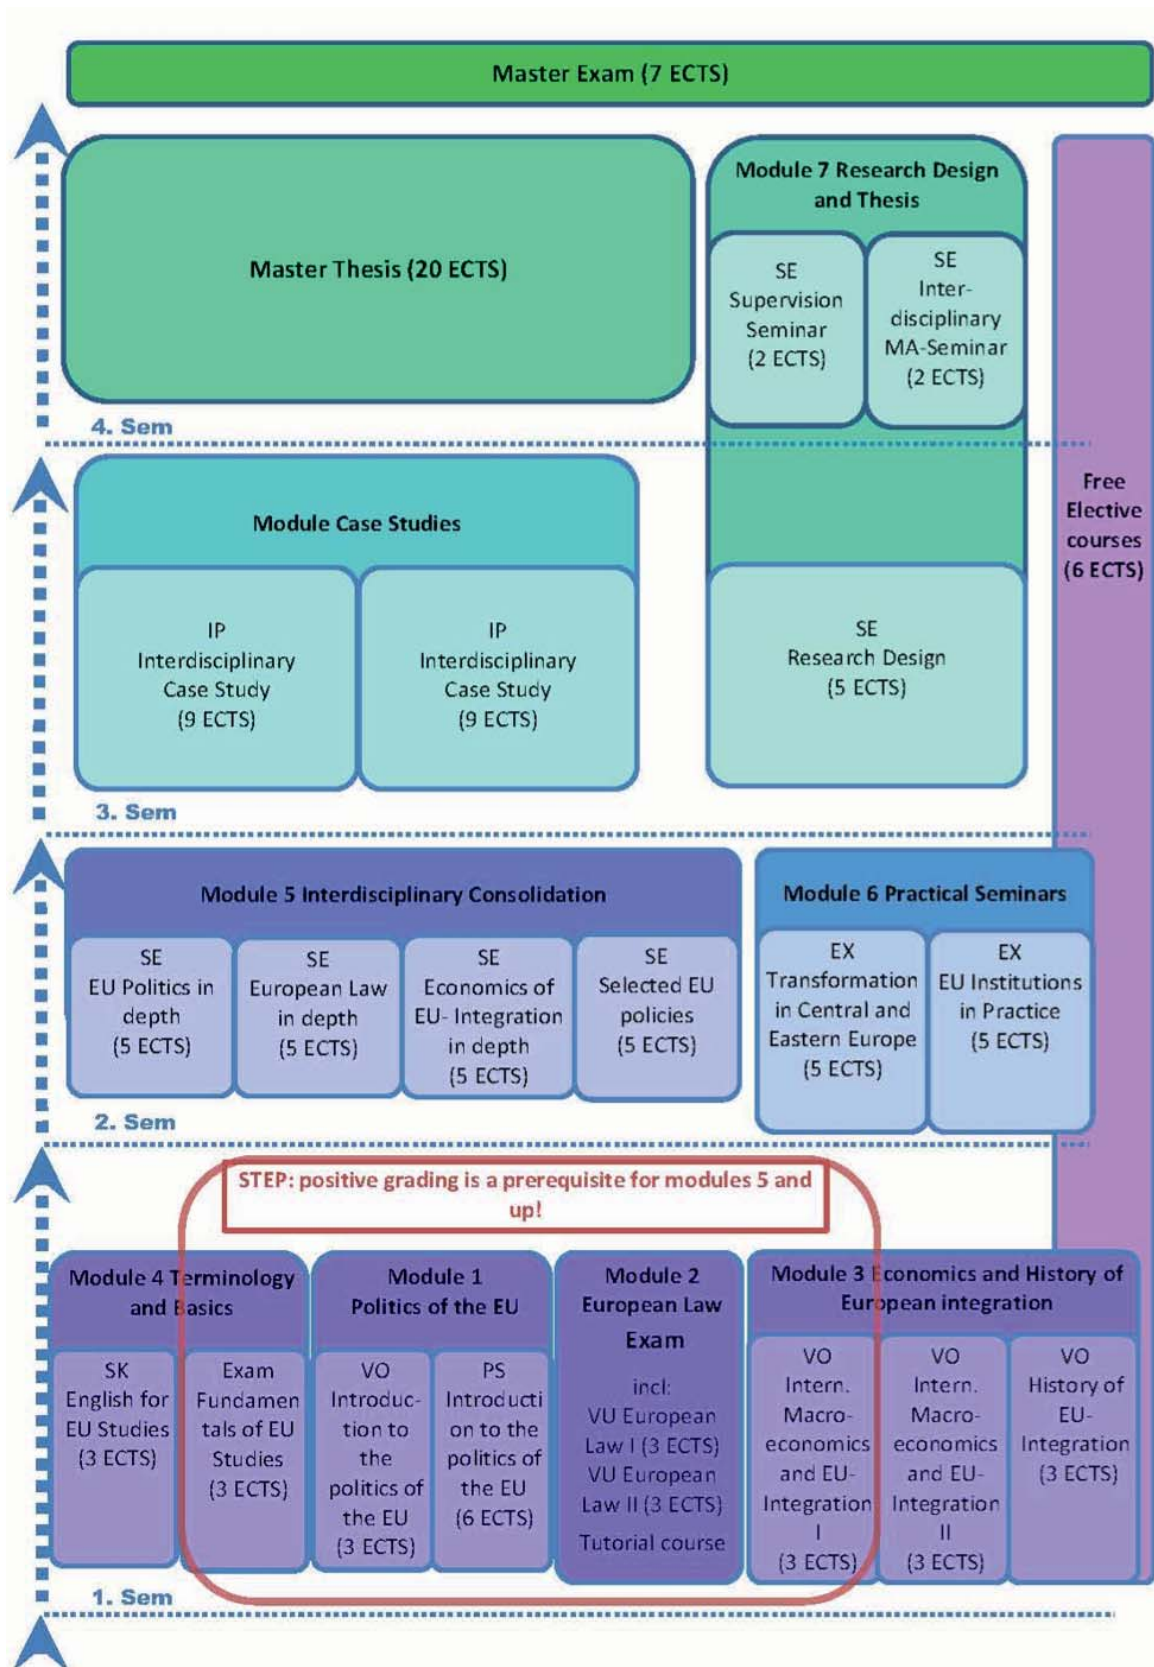

Admission to the Master Programme is free, and no specific application procedure is required. You need to enrol at the University following the standard-procedure as for any other Master Programme.

For registration and all information about it please contact the studies department (Studienorganisation): Mr. Fleißner 0662 80442251 or Mr. Jählig 066280442252, see <http://www.uni-salzburg.at/index.php?id=45112>)

The Curriculum: Overview

Master Programme European Union Studies (Curr. 2016)

Important Information and Tips

Study Entry Phase

As highlighted in the curriculum in §13 (see below) you have to have completed Modules 1 and 2 plus the first Economics course and the Basics of European Union Studies exam in order to be allowed to complete the courses of the second semester:

Course / module:	a prerequisite for:
Module 1: Introduction to the Politics of the EU	Modules 5, 6 and 7
Module 2: European Law (Subject Exam)
VO International Macroeconomics and European Integration I
Fundamentals of EU studies (Subject Exam)

All other courses of the first semester must be completed by the end of the 2nd semester at the latest; you can therefore choose a later examination date.

Caution: a lot of the courses are only offered in winter semester; make sure not to miss them.

Other Admission Prerequisites

Course / module:	a prerequisite for:
Module 5 VO International Macroeconomics and European Integration II (Module 2), VO History of European Integration (Module 2), SK English for EU studies (Module 4)	Elective Module Case Studies on EU Law and Politics, and Seminar Research Design (Module 7)
Seminar Research Design (Module 7)	Interdisciplinary Master Seminar (Module 7)

Caution: all prerequisites have to be fulfilled by the 15th of March/October (depending on the Semester). Courses which demand prerequisites may be attended until this date, if you have not fulfilled them but still have the chance to do so before the deadline. If the deadline has passed and you were not able to complete the prerequisites, you have to drop out.

Some special recommendations:

Qualifying examination European Union Law: this examination covers the content of several lectures. Because of the amount and the complexity of the examination material, thorough preparation is essential. It is also very much recommended to attend the tutorial course which is offered as an additional preparatory class. To make sure that an initial fail will not delay your study progress, we also recommend that you register for early examination dates.

Qualifying examination Basics of European Union Studies: This written examination covers questions on basic knowledge of the European Union. A catalogue of questions and information for preparation is provided on the homepage of SCEUS.

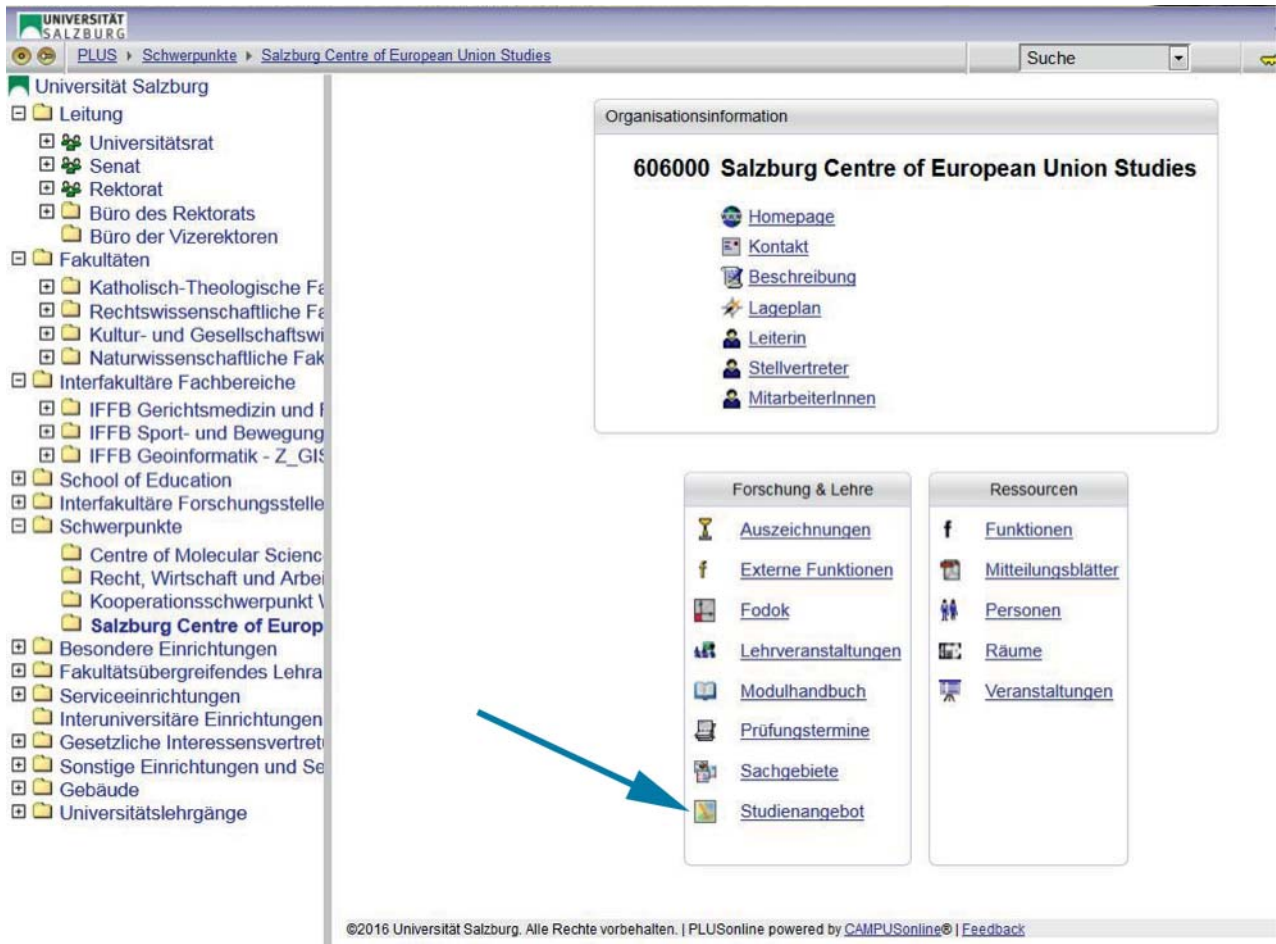

Olomouc: The aim of these lectures, taught by experts from the Czech Republic, is to allow for a deeper understanding of the transformation process between the fall of the iron curtain and the Eastern enlargement of the European Union in 2004. In the units taking place in Salzburg, students are required to make their own contributions. At the Palacký University in Olomouc, Czech instructors will introduce the specific characteristics of the legal and political system.

Moot Court/ Case Studies: These lectures aim at giving a deeper understanding of processes within the European Union. In the Moot Court (Seminar EU Institutions in Practice) you will take roles (of judges, advocate general, parties to the national procedure, European Commission) within the framework of a procedure in front of the European Court of Justice. The interdisciplinary seminars highlight the procedures leading up to the passing of legislative acts within the European Union. Besides a theoretical input, a lot of emphasis is put on team work and simulation of negotiations.

Master thesis/ examination: Starting at the end of the second semester you should start looking for a possible subject for your thesis. You will find a list of possible supervisors for your thesis on the homepage of SCEUS. Ideally the master thesis will cover an interdisciplinary question. After the successful completion of the master thesis it has to be defended in an oral exam.

Getting started

After checking the Curriculum you need to find the matching courses and register for them. This happens via Plusonline - "Studienangebot"/"Degree Programmes"

After choosing the curriculum you will find a list of courses – here you can select the courses you need to attend, find all information about them, and register. You can find all Modules including their subsections and the courses belonging to these – sometimes there are several possibilities for you to choose from, sometimes there is just one possible course.

International experience

Students in the Master Programme in EU Studies are encouraged to spend a period of study abroad. Further to Exchange Programmes like Erasmus we offer two possibilities to gain some international experience and even acquire a Double Degree. Our Partner Universities are the Palacky University in Olomouc and the the Libera Università Internazionale degli Studi Sociali Guido Carli in Rome.

Double Degree Programme Salzburg and Olomouc

As an EUS-student you have the opportunity to combine studying abroad in Olomouc and acquire a Magister degree of the Law faculty of Palacky University additionally to your Master-degree in EUS.

To be awarded the Double Degree, most courses in this curriculum have to be completed in Salzburg. This is followed by a stay in Olomouc (if possible during the last semester) where you take the obligatory courses of the Palacky University, which are also recognized at the University of Salzburg. The only additional subject you have to pass in Salzburg is the course "EU institutions in practice".

Your stay in Olomouc may take one semester or more, if you prefer. In Olomouc courses up to the value of 20 ECTS have to be completed, according to the requirements of the university.

Additionally the master thesis has to focus on current topics relevant to the Czech Republic. The thesis can be supervised either in Salzburg or in Olomouc, also co-supervision is possible. The master examination will take place in Salzburg, and questions will be asked by professors from both universities.

In the event of successful completion of the master examination in Salzburg a request for both degrees can be made, according to the requirements of both universities. Within the framework of the Double Degree Programme the partner universities shall both award their academic degrees on the basis of their applicable national laws.

Double Degree Programme Salzburg and Rome

SCEUS runs a two-year Double Degree Programme with our partner-university Libera Università Internazionale degli Studi Sociali (LUISS) Guido Carli in Rome, offering a challenging programme taught in English, aimed at students enrolled in the Master-Programme EUS at Salzburg University.

Students have the opportunity to study not only in Salzburg but spend some time in Rome, taking courses according to the requirements of both universities. You will be exempted from the study fees in Rome and at the end of the programme, if compliant with both LUISS and SALZBURG aca-

demographic requirements, you will defend your thesis at both Universities and acquire two degrees:

- Master's Degree in INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS at LUISS
- Master of Arts in EU STUDIES at Universität Salzburg

There are two possible ways to organize your studying time:

In the first Scenario (Pre-Salzburg) you spend your first two semesters in Rome and the last two in Salzburg.

In the second Scenario (Post-Salzburg), after having completed three semesters of your course program in Salzburg, you have the opportunity to spend another two semesters in Rome.

In each academic year LUISS and SALZBURG will exchange up to 5 students in each direction.

The StV European Union Studies is always happy to help you!

During our weekly office hours the StV not only offers EUS students the possibility to print up to 30 pages per week for free (!), we also happily give advice and information about the study programme. We are especially happy to help new EUS students in their first semesters to find their way through the new studies.

But the StV does even more! In the meetings of the curricular commission and in meetings with the faculty and the professors the StV advocates students' interests and tries to be a link between the professors and students.

Additionally, outside the university, the StV tries to enhance the connection of students through different activities like the Welcome Day, the Summer Party or Cocktail evenings.

If you have any questions, we are happy to help you and we are always thrilled to welcome motivated students to our team! The easiest ways to contact us are through Facebook, email or our homepage.

Curriculum for the Master Programme European Union Studies of the Paris-Lodron University of Salzburg

(Version 2016)

At its meeting on 10 May 2016 the senate of the Paris-Lodron University of Salzburg adopted the following version of the curriculum for the Master Programme in EU Studies, as finalised by the EU Studies Curriculum Commission of Salzburg University on 16 April 2016.

Its legal basis is the 2002 Federal Act on the Organization of Universities and their Studies (Universities Act 2002 – UG), Federal Law Gazette No. 120/2002, and the section of the Statutes of the University of Salzburg relating to university studies.

§ 1 General Provisions

- (1) The overall scope of the Master Programme in EU studies is 120 ECTS credits. This corresponds to an intended study duration of 4 semesters.
- (2) Graduates of the Master Programme in EU studies are awarded the academic degree “Master of Arts”, abbreviated as “MA”.
- (3) For admission to the Master Programme, students must have completed a bachelor’s degree, Fachhochschule bachelor’s degree or another equivalent programme at a recognized domestic or foreign post-secondary educational institution (see. UG2002 §64 para. 5). A subject-specific training is not required, the study is aimed at graduates of all disciplines.
- (4) If a student’s bachelor’s degree is not deemed equivalent to an acceptable extent, the student may be required to complete additional work worth up to 45 ECTS credits; these requirements must be satisfied by the end of the Master Programme. Only the Rectorate or a member of staff at the University of Salzburg designated by the Rectorate is authorised to make a determination of equivalency.
- (5) ECTS credits will be allocated with regard to all relevant student achievements. One ECTS credit is equivalent to 25 hours of work and denotes the average workload required to achieve the expected learning outcomes. The workload of one academic year corresponds to 1.500 real hours and thus an allocation of 60 ECTS credits.
- (6) Students with disabilities and / or chronic illness will not experience any discrimination while studying. The principles of the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, the Federal Equal Treatment Act and the Principle of Disadvantage Compensation will apply.
- (7) The language of instruction is English. Classes in other languages may be taken as elective courses if they are offered as Master courses equivalent to the courses taught in English.

§ 2 Overview of the Degree Programme and Professional Skills

- (1) Overview of the Degree Programme

The programme aims to provide students with in-depth knowledge of European Union institutions, their functioning and decision-making, and of selected political themes. For this purpose, an interdisciplinary approach is pursued, reflecting political, legal, socio-economic and historical aspects, augmented by the involvement in the instruction process of practical experts at European and national level.

(2) Professional Skills and Competences (Learning Outcomes)

After completing the Master Programme in European Union Studies, students will have the following skills:

Knowledge:

- Comprehensive knowledge of European Union institutions, actors, decision-making, legal and economic fundamentals, policy areas and norms
- In depth practical understanding of the policy-making process at European level through simulations and moot courts
- The ability to understand socioscientific, legal and economic research compiled using high methodological standards, and to transfer their knowledge to other areas
- The ability to write research in the individual disciplines using an interdisciplinary approach and the skills learned in the programme
- The ability to analyse and apply the theories and concepts from the individual disciplines
- The ability to evaluate and reproduce the decision-making processes of the European Union in a legal, political, economic, and historical context
- Language skills, as a result of the option to acquire additional qualifications during a semester abroad

Methodological skills:

- The ability to apply the basic methods and techniques of the individual disciplines, also with regard to inter-disciplinary research
- The ability to design research projects in the individual disciplines, but also using an interdisciplinary perspective.
- The ability to cooperate with others (interdisciplinary and in groups) and to conduct joint research
- The ability to present complex academic studies and their own research outcomes
- The ability to combine academic and practical aspect of learnings, and to conduct practice-led research
- The ability to work within the framework of stakeholder relationships, having acquired academic insight into the actions of EU institutions and stakeholders

(3) Importance and Relevance of the Degree to the Academic Community, Society and the Labour Market

Political, legal and economic issues are now largely determined by European-level decisions. Knowledge of European institutions, policies and decision-making processes and European law is therefore of vital importance to understanding developments in the public and private sectors. A variety of public and private actors, large, medium and small enterprises, interest groups and members of wider civil society constantly need to assert their positions under changing conditions, and they therefore look increasingly to the European level. The Master Programme in EU Studies provides the necessary expertise.

The following career fields are available to graduates:

- Occupations in European institutions and their environment
- Employment in EU-related areas of public administration at national and regional level
- Interest groups at European and national level
- EU-specific political consulting and lobbying
- Public Policy Departments in companies and business organizations, etc.

§ 3 Structure of the Programme

The Master Programme in EU Studies consists of 8 modules, for which 87 ECTS credits are allocated. Additionally, 6 ECTS credits are assessed for free elective courses. The Master Thesis is worth 20 ECTS credits, and the Master Examination 7 ECTS credits.

Name of Module	ECTS Credits
Module 1: Introduction to the Politics of the EU	9
Module 2: European Law	6
Module 3: Economics and History of European Integration	9
Module 4: Terminology and Basics	6
Module 5: Interdisciplinary Consolidation	20
Module 6: Practical Seminars	10
Module 7: Research Design and Thesis	9
Elective Module: Case Studies	18
Free Elective Courses	6
Master Thesis	20
Master Examination	7
Total	120

§ 4 Course Types

- (1) The following types of courses are included in the programme:

A Lecture (VO) gives an overview of a subject or one of its component parts and its theoretical approaches, and presents different doctrines and methods. The content is mainly taught in lecture style. The course is assessed by examination and there is no obligation to attend lectures.

A Lecture with Exercises (VU) connects the theoretical introduction of an area of study with developing practical skills. The course is assessed by examination and there is no obligation to attend lectures.

An Excursion (EX) is used to develop and illustrate knowledge outside the university. An Excursion is a continuous assessment course with compulsory attendance.

A Proseminar (PS) is an academically oriented course and prepares the students for seminar courses. Knowledge and skills are developed through theoretical and practical study, and the active participation of the students. A Proseminar is a continuous assessment course with compulsory attendance.

A Seminar (SE) is a course that consolidates knowledge of a particular subject. It facilitates the acquisition of a deeper specialized knowledge and the capacity for discussion and reflection on academic themes, in the context of collaborative learning by the student. A Seminar is a continuous assessment course with compulsory attendance.

A Language Course (SK) enables the acquisition and deepening of language skills through the active participation of the students. A language course is a continuous assessment course with compulsory attendance.

An Interdisciplinary Project (IP) uses approaches, ways of thinking and methodologies from different disciplines to interconnect subjects, and combines theoretical and practical objectives. An Interdisciplinary Project is a continuous assessment course with compulsory attendance.

- (2) Courses and examinations can be held in other languages than the main language of instruction. For organisational reasons, courses can be allocated increased weekly hours during a part of a semester (block courses)
- (3) Different courses from other fields of study may be designated as acceptable courses under the scope of § 1 with the agreement of the course leader, as long as the content and methodology of the replacement course is substantially similar.

§ 5 Required Courses and Plan of Study

The modules and courses of the Master Programme are listed below. The assignment to semesters is a recommendation and ensures that the sequence of courses is optimal, based on knowledge previously obtained, and that one year of work does not exceed 60 ECTS credits. Modules and courses can be taken in a different order, as long as the preconditions according to § 13 are not violated.

Detailed descriptions of the modules, including the associated competences, methodologies and skills can be found in Annex I: Description of Modules.

§ 7 Free Elective Courses

- (1) Free elective courses to the value of 6 ECTS credits must be completed as part of the Master Programme. They can be selected from courses offered at any recognized post-secondary educational institution and will enable the [study of focal points within the programme.

§ 8 Master Thesis

- (1) The Master Thesis should demonstrate that students can perform independent academic research in the area of European Integration according to current academic research methods and standards.
- (2) The topic of the Master Thesis should be chosen in such a way that it is reasonable and appropriate for completion within six months (cf. UG2002 §81 para. 2)
- (3) The topic of the Master Thesis must be chosen from the fields of political science, law, economic and social history, economics, or communication science. It should have a specific relevance to European Integration and should use an interdisciplinary approach as part of the methodology. The student is entitled to propose a topic or select a topic from the suggestions of available supervisors.
- (4) It is to be noted that both the student's work on the topic and advisor's work with the student are governed by Austrian copyright law, Federal Law Gazette No. 111/1936 (cf. UG2002 §80 para. 2).

§ 9 Work Placement

Students are recommended to complete a work placement in the context of the free elective courses, comprising at least three consecutive weeks in full time employment (this corresponds to 4.5 ECTS credits). The work placement should be completed during the study programme at an institution that mainly deals with issues connected to European Integration, and should be authorized by the relevant authority before commencement. The student should write a report about the work placement, which should then be confirmed by the institution.

§ 10 Study Abroad

Students in the Master Programme in EU Studies are encouraged to spend a semester of study abroad. This semester abroad should ideally be scheduled in the second or fourth semester of study. Recognition of the courses completed at the university abroad will be granted by the responsible body. Documents needed for the assessment should be provided by the student.

The semester abroad can be completed without causing a delay in a student's course of study if the following conditions are met:

- At least 30 ECTS credits are earned in each semester of study abroad
- The content of the courses completed during the period of study abroad is not identical to courses already completed at the University of Salzburg
- Formal confirmation in writing before beginning the study of which courses and/or exams planned to be taken abroad are transferable to the University of Salzburg

In addition to field-specific knowledge and skills, students stand to gain the following qualifications by studying abroad:

- Acquisition and consolidation of field-specific knowledge in a foreign language
- Acquisition and consolidation of general foreign-language skills (comprehension, conversation, etc.)
- Acquisition and consolidation of organisational skills gained by independently navigating the bureaucracy and organisational structure of a university abroad, as well as the daily challenges of student life abroad
- Becoming acquainted with international student exchange programmes and broadening one's perspectives in one's own field of study
- Acquisition and consolidation of intercultural communication skills

Students with disabilities and/or chronic illnesses will be assisted in their search for an opportunity to study abroad, and in planning for their semester abroad, by the Office of the Rectorate for Disability & Diversity.

§ 11 Double Degree Programme

- (1) The Master Programme “European Studies with a specialization in European Law”, Palacky University in Olomouc (Czech Republic)

Outgoing

- Proof of course examinations in the Master Programme to the value of 20 ECTS credits, replacing the lectures in module 5 (Interdisciplinary Consolidation).
- Evidence of the positive assessment of a Master Thesis in the Master Programme, replacing the thesis detailed in this curriculum.
- Evidence of an examination in the subject of the Master Thesis in the amount of 9 ECTS credits, replacing Module 7 (Research Design and Thesis).

Incoming

- Graduates of the Master Programme “European Studies specializing in European Law” at Palacky University in Olomouc (Czech Republic) should have proof of the successful completion of the Elective Module Case Studies on EU law and politics at the University of Salzburg.
- (2) The Master Programme in International Relations, European Studies at the LUISS – Libera Università Internazionale degli Studi Sociali Guido Carli, Roma
 - Proof of completion of examinations corresponding to 60 ECTS credits from legal, economic, or political science courses with particular European or international relevance from the Master Programme, replacing modules 1-5.
 - Evidence of the successful completion of a Master Thesis in the Master Programme in International Relations, replacing the Master Thesis for this curriculum. Evidence of completion of examinations corresponding to 16 ECTS credits from the subject area or with respect to the Master Thesis, replacing the Master Examination (§ 14) and module 7.

§ 12 Allocation of Places in Courses with a Limited Number of Participants

- (1) The maximum number of participants in the Master Programme in EU Studies for the following course types is limited as shown below:

Lectures (VO), Lectures with exercises (VU)	no limit
Excursion (EX)	25
Proseminar (PS)	30
Seminar (SE)	20
Language Course (SK)	30
Interdisciplinary Project (IP)	20

- (2) In instances in which courses with a restricted number of participants are oversubscribed, priority of enrolment will be given to students for whom the course is part of the curriculum.
- (3) Students in the Master Programme in EU Studies will be given places in courses based on the following criteria in the order listed below:
- a student was on the waiting list in the course in the previous academic year
 - a student has earned a higher total number of ECTS credits in the programme so far
 - a student has completed a greater number of courses and/or exams
 - a student has completed a greater number of semesters in the programme of study
 - a student has a higher ECTS weighted grade point average
 - random selection

Available places will be allocated to students from other programs using the same criteria in the same order.

- (4) For students participating in international exchange programs, additional places constituting at least ten percent of the maximum number of participants in each course will be made available. These places will be allocated randomly.

§ 13 Conditions of Admission to Examinations

- (1) The following prerequisites apply:

Course / module:	a prerequisite for:
Module 1: Introduction to the Politics of the EU Module 2: European Law (Subject Exam) VO International Macroeconomics and European Integration I Fundamentals of EU studies (Subject Exam)	Modules 5, 6 and 7
Module 5 VO International Macroeconomics and European Integration II (Module 2), VO History of European Integration (Module 2), SK English for EU studies (module 4)	Elective Module Case Studies on EU Law and Politics, and Seminar Research Design (Module 7)
Seminar Research Design (Module 7)	Interdisciplinary Master Seminar (Module 7)

- (2) These admission requirements maybe waived for students participating in Double Degree Programmes (§ 11) allowing for proper proceedings of their studies.

§ 14 Examination Regulations

- (1) The tests should be taken as written examinations at the end of the course. In the case of European Law, the test can be offered in written form (Duration: 120min) or as an oral examination; testing of the Fundamentals of European Union Studies is a written exam (duration: 90min).

- (2) Substitution of Courses

If a student has completed courses in a previous study programme, which comprise the same content as compulsory courses in this Master Programme, it is possible to replace them with free elective course with the equivalent ECTS value.

§ 15 Master Examination [before examining committee]

- (1) The Master Programme in EU Studies concludes with a Master Examination before an examining committee, and is worth 7 ECTS credits.
- (2) Students must have successfully completed all of the required courses and the Master Thesis in order to be eligible to take the Master Examination.
- (3) The Master Examination is carried out in the form of presentation and a discussion on the Master Thesis (Defensio). The debate (Defensio) is carried out with respect to two subjects chosen from the disciplines of political science, law, economic and social history, economics, or communication science. The first subject will be the one relating to the Master Thesis. The second area should be suggested by the candidate.

§ 16 Effective date

The curriculum comes into force 1 October, 2016.
